Grant of Licence By B.C. Launches $25,000,000 Plant

First Agreement Under New Act Covers Area Near Prince Rupert

Granting of a forest management licence to Columbia Cellulose Company yesterday cleared plans for construction of a $25,000,000 cellulose plant at Port Edward, near Prince Rupert.

The licence was signed on behalf of the Government by Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney. It was the first issued under the Forest Act as amended at the 1947 session of the Legislature.

Columbia Cellulose is a subsidiary of the Celanese Corporation of America.

The tract covered by the licence is in the Prince Rupert Forest District and includes part of the watershed areas of the Skeena and Nass Rivers.

It will provide a sustained wood supply for the plant on Watson Island which will have a capacity of 200 tons of highly purified cellulose daily.

Clearing of the site is already under way and construction is scheduled to begin shortly, Mr. Kenney said. It is estimated two years will be required for completion.

"Entrance of the Celanese Corporation into the large scale production of cellulose is in conformity with the company's long range plan of supplementing its supplies of essential raw materials," said Mr. Kenney. "Production from this plant will be used to supply a substantial share of the company's expanding requirements for yarns and plastics.

"This agreement is of special significance in view of the world shortage of cellulose, especially of the highly purified type suitable for the manufacture of synthetic yarn. The consumption of cellulose for this purpose is constantly on the increase and there are relatively few sources of supply.

"It is also of special significance because it is the first timber contract in British Columbia to impose the condition of forest management for sustained or continuous yield of forest crops."

Under the forest management plan logging is regulated so that forest resources will be perpetuated through scientific management and planned afforestation. Regulations require that the company work in co-operation with the Forest Service.

Forest Issue on Island May End Within Week

Decision on the granting of a forest management licence on Vancouver Island to the Canadian Western Timber Company Ltd. may be made within a week, Lands and Forests Minister E. T. Kenney said yesterday.

At stake is a huge pulp mill which the company wants to build at Duncan Bay, a few miles north of Campbell River. Mr. Kenney said the plant might cost up to $25,000,000.

The company has been negotiating with the Government for more than a year and a-half. Its licence application has been under consideration for a year during which numerous hearings have been held.

Most of the investigations in connection with the application have now been completed, Mr. Kenney said and a Cabinet committee composed of himself, Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer and Finance Minister Herbert Anscomb was appointed to wind up the final details.

A meeting is planned on the return of Mr. Anscomb, now in Eastern Canada.

Speaking for the company before the forestry committee recently, R. J. Filberg said machinery would be specially designed to handle small logs which are now left on the ground in logging operations where lumber is the ultimate product.

He suggested logging operators in the vicinity would find a ready market for such waste material.

Power for the plant would be supplied by the Hart Development at Campbell River. There is also possibility that the comany would take over the wharf built at Duncan Bay by the British Columbia Power Commission during construction of the Campbell River power project.

Cheaper Bread Said to Have More Calories

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP).—The Commons committee on prices came up today with the information that you get more for your money if you buy 10-cent loaves and avoid expensive brands.

During its bread investigation two months ago, members decided to find out what difference there is between 10 and 14-cent loaves. It got the answer today from Dr. L. B. Pett, chief of the Health Department's nutritional division.

His staff analyzed eight 10-cent loaves and ten which sold for 14 cents. It found three of the 10-cent loaves weighed fractionally less than the standard 1½-pound weight while five of the 14-cent brands were slightly below.

The cheaper loaves averaged 1,845 calories. The more expensive ones showed an average of only 1,797. And Dr. Pett said that bread's chief importance as a food is in its calorie value.

"The 10-cent loaf is a better buy and would be even if the price were the same," he said.

But he told the committee he would not concede the cheaper loaves much nutritional superiority since the difference, 48 calories, is very slight.

Protein content of the various breads varied only slightly.

Election Set For Summer

FREDERICTON, May 4 (CP). — Premier J. B. McNair tonight called a New Brunswick election for "early Summer," probably in June. He could not set the date until he had conferred with the cabinet, he said.

The 58-year-old Liberal Premier made the long-expected announcement as the fourth session of the 40th Legislature neared prorogation.

It will mark the last sitting of the House as a 48-seat body.

Under a partial redistribution act passed at the 1946 session the next Legislature will be increased four seats.

New Crossings May End Slow-Speed School Zone

Familiar 15-mile-an-hour school zones in the city may be a thing of the past soon if a new system of traffic control in school zones is successful.

Marked pedestrian crossings, at which all traffic must halt when the crossing is being used, are being tried out in the city. First of the new crossings was set up yesterday at Oak Bay Avenue and Bank Street.

Warning signs will be placed 150 feet each side of the crossing with another at the crossing reading "Stop when occupied."

The project is being undertaken by the police commission, city public works committee, and Kiwanis safety patrol committee.

The new system would mean that motorists during the day would be able to pass a school at a normal speed, stopping only when pedestrians are actually using the cross walk. Pedestrians would have the right of way.

If the first such change-overs are successful, the system will be tried at other locations.

BULLETINS

Dam Bursts

WINNIPEG, May 4 (CP). — Flood waters of the swollen Minnedosa River tonight swept through a dam near the town of the same name, sending a four-foot deep stream coursing down the main street.

Ship in Distress

SYDNEY, N.S., May 4 (CP).—Airplane Pilot Bill Bruce reported here tonight the motorship Balsam Lake was sending up distress flares off the Cape Breton coast and he believed her to be in trouble.

Bruce, who flew over the vessel off the mouth of Big Bras d'Or Lake, said the craft, dangerously close to land, appeared to be helpless in drift ice.

Resume Service

PARIS, May 4 (Reuters).—The Paris subway was running 107 of its 250 trains today, fourth day of a strike for higher pay called by one of the motormen's unions.

Holmes Urges Islanders To Develop Resources

Industrial development of Vancouver Island as one distinct area, and extensive use of the Island's vast natural resources, was advocated by Major H. C. Holmes, retiring president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, at the annual meeting yesterday in the Arcade auditorium.

"Our Island," he noted, "is as large in area, and much greater in natural wealth than several important nations . . . yet our population is only a fraction of that of other intrinsically poorer areas.

"We hold great riches, undeveloped and with a handful of people.

"The problem of increasing the numbers using our great resources is pressing," he emphasized. "We can, and should, do something to solve it ourselves."

He said leaders of the Vancouver Island Associated Boards of Trade have been striving, "with some success," to unify business people of this area in plans for its development, and in this connection plans were now under way for the establishment of an industrial department within the Chamber of Commerce.

He urged that Vancouver Island was large enough to merit the sole and entire attention of a branch of the Provincial Government's Department of Trade and Industry. Its duty would be to study the Island's resources and determine the best means of furthering and increasing their development.

He said Greater Victoria already possessed some 150 industries, producing latterly new wealth of about $40,000,000 annually.

"But a high percentage of what we consume and what we sell to others is not produced here," he continued. "Many of these articles could be produced here.

"Our ability to increase our manufactures has been limited, until recently, by lack of power. Opening of the John Hart power project at Campbell River has removed that barrier," he concluded.

Funds Slated For Refugees

GENEVA, May 4 (Reuters). — William Hallam Tuck, executive secretary of the International Refugee Organization, said today the Canadian Government may spend $700,000 to settle in Canada 1,000 European refugee families, mostly from displaced persons' camps in Germany, Austria and Italy.

Canadian Navy Exercise In Northern Waters Scheduled for Summer

Part of Strong Defence Plans, Claxton Says; Hits at Russia

MONTREAL, May 4 (CP)—Canada's new aircraft carrier Magnificent will lead a Summer naval exercise in Northern waters this year which will see "the first Canadian warships ever to enter Hudson Bay," Defence Minister Claxton announced tonight.

The Magnificent will not herself enter the bay, the Minister intimated, but will accompany two destroyers and a tanker into Baffin Straits. The destroyers will go on to Churchill, Man.

In an address to the Montreal Young Men's Board of Trade, he said the step was being taken "recognizing the importance of northern waters to us," and added that Canada also is constructing "a large modern icebreaker" for the navy."

The Minister also disclosed that Canada also is speeding up development of "a two-seater, two-engine long range fighter particularly adapted to use in Canada." In the meantime the Dominion had bought from Britain 85 modern Vampire aircraft.

Stressing the need for a tightening of defence plans, he said that since the war Russia has flouted her war-won friendships, "obstinately obstructed every move to arrive at understanding and promoted chaos and disorder and darkness as the only conditions in which Communism can exist and grow."

"Defence has always been a matter of major national policy," Mr. Claxton said. "These developments may lead to a system of pooled security or to other developments of far-reaching significance.

"But in any event today there is only one possible aggressor, the only war in which Canada would take part would be a world war, a war for domination, a total war. If Canada is attacked, it will be as an incident of a world war."

Canada needed a foundation of defence forces capable of expansion as rapidly as possible and suitable "to enable use to take our proper place for our security and our self respect."

Ohio Voting Gives Taft Strong Lead

NEW YORK, May 4 (CP).—Senator Robert Taft led in 12 delegate races tonight as he defended his presidential candidacy in his home state of Ohio.

The Minnesotan challenged the Ohio Senator for 23 of the 53 delegates to the Republican convention.

Returns were fragmentary and nothing had been reported from the ten remaining races in the contest that was one of the hardest fought in the 1948 campaign. Taft got 30 of the state's 53 delegates without opposition.

Voters in three other states went to the polls today.

Alabama returns showed two early trends:

1. An indication that the state's delegation to the Democratic convention may be divided between those favoring and those opposing a walkout should the convention nominate President Truman or endorse his Civil Rights program.

2. Governor James Folsom was not doing well. The Governor, who has proclaimed himself a candidate for the presidential nomination, was trailing five other men.

In Florida, first returns in the governorship race gave leads to Dan McCarty, fruit grower, and Fuller Warren, lawyer.

Indiana voters gave broad leads in the early count to incumbent Congressmen in their races for renomination.

Railmen To Vote On Strike

MONTREAL, May 4 (CP)—Eighteen railway unions, representing 125,000 workers across Canada, today rejected a conciliation board's wage-increase recommendations and called for an immediate strike vote.

A few hours after the announcement, the unions announced they had been advised that the railway companies had accepted the recommendations for a wage increase of seven cents an hour, outlined in a majority report of the board.

At the same time, the door to possible settlement was left ajar by the unions with a hint to the companies that "substantial concessions" would be favorably received.

The announcement of the rejection and acceptance came from P. H. Hall, chairman of the general conference committee of the 18 unions involved. He said he was advised of the companies' acceptance in a telegram from Labor Minister Mitchell.

The conciliation board was set up by the Department of Labor following a break-off of negotiations between the companies and unions last December 19. Its findings were made known last month.

U.N. Hears Arab States Hint of War Upon Jews

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., May 4 (CP). — The immobilized United Nations today heard indications from three Arab States of threats of war against Holy Land Jews.

Countering the strong Arab words in the 58-member political committee, Russia insisted that to obtain peace it was necessary first to expel from Palestine the Arab bands fighting against the U.N. decision to partition Palestine.

The warlike talk came during discussion of Britain's proposal that a "neutral authority" fill the administrative gap in Palestine after May 15 when she drops her 24-year-old mandate.

A telegram from King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan set the Arabs' pace in charging Jews with outrages in the Palestine fighting and hinting at reprisals.

Naji Al-Asil of Iraq followed the line laid down by Abdullah, charging that Hagana, Jewish defence force, yesterday destroyed the Iraqui Consulate in Jerusalem.

Faris El-Khoury of Syria said that unless the U.N. could restrain the Jews it would be difficult to prevent reprisal action.

Arab Town Said Taken

TEL AVIV, Palestine, May 4 (CP).—Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish warriors, said today they had captured the strategic Arab town of Yehudia, 13 miles east of Tel Aviv, after an all-night battle with Arab defenders.

Hagana, the regular Jewish militia, declared Lebanese artillery shelled the northern Jewish settlement of Ramat Naftali, near the Lebanese-Palestine frontier.

Hagana said Arab forces were attacking Kafa Etzion, a Jewish strongpoint about 10 miles south of Jerusalem.

Irgun said strong Arab Legion forces at an army camp outside Lydda Airport struck back at Irgun positions in Yehudia late today.

Living-Cost Index at Highest Peak 50.4 Per Cent Greater Than in 1939

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP).—It costs half as much again to live today as it did before the war—and that's official.

"From August 1, 1939, to April 1 this year, the increase in the cost-of-living index was 50.4 per cent," the Bureau of Statistics reported.

It said the index reached 151.6 at April 1, the highest point in history, one point above the peak reached in the inflation that followed the Great War. Higher food and clothing prices were the main cause.

But the bureau indicated the pace of increase in the cost of living has been stabilized.

The boost during March of four-fifths of a point was the same as during February. It compares with a jump of 1.8 points in January, increases of almost 3 points a month late last year, and a 21-point increase since last April.

"Clothing and food indexes showed the greatest changes between March and April, although small advances were registered also by fuel and light, home furnishings and services and miscellaneous items," said the bureau.

The increase in foods was attributable mainly to fresh vegetables and meats, although scattered advances occurred in other sections of the food budget. There were a few minor decreases which included a further seasonal recession for eggs.

"The clothing index moved up from 169.9 to 172.8, with footwear leading a broad list of increases.

"Home furnishings and services changed from 161.2 to 161.9, fuel and light from 121 to 121.3, and miscellaneous items from 122.8 to 122.9.

"The rental index remained at 119.9."

The official cost-of-living index is calculated on the basis that 1935-39 prices equalled 100.

The new index figure was worked out before the 21 per cent across-the-board freight rates increase.

Construction to Start on $25,000,000 Cellulose Plant at Port Edward Granting of a forest management licence yesterday advanced plans for construction of a large cellulose plant by Columbia Cellulose Ltd., on Watson Island, near Prince Rupert. Shown above, the site at Port Edward provides combined trans-continental highway and railroad facilities and deep water wharfage. Built by the United States during the war, the wharf was designed to take the largest ships in the United States Navy.

Fire on Ss. Princess Kathleen —Colonist Photo.

Damage, estimated at more than $3,000, was done to battery room and corridor ceilings of Ss. Princess Kathleen in fire of unknown origin at 3:40 p.m. Tuesday. Fire was held to point of origin by equipment from Halls 4 and 1, under Chief Robert Brindle. Ship sailed on schedule on Victoria-Vancouver midnight run.

Prairie Flood Damage Goes On But Conditions May Ease Soon

WINNIPEG, May 4 (CP).—A deteriorating situation northwest of Edmonton, and frantic efforts to save a dam north of the Manitoba town of Minnedosa from collapse darkened an otherwise clearing flood picture over the Prairie Provinces today.

From Brandon, in Western Manitoba, came word that the flood level of the Assiniboine River had not changed overnight.

Winnipeg's engineering department reported to the Manitoba Government it was arranging to hurry carloads of crushed stone by rail from city quarries to assist Minnedosa in its fight to save the weakening dam north of the town. Should the dam break, it will release the waters of an artificial lake.

In Northern Saskatchewan, floods in the Carrot River Valley 70 miles east of Prince Albert passed their peak. The floods cut highway communication between Nipawin and Tisdale, east and south of Carrot River, and railway communications between Nipawin and the south of the province.

Flood waters were dropping at Regina, Estevan, Lumsden, Kamsack and many other Saskatchewan points, although their levels still were high. At Kamsack, northeast of Yorkton, homes were without heat.

Only a few residents of Roche Percee, southeast of Estevan, had returned to their homes.

Despite an overnight rain, flood waters in Southern Alberta appeared generally to be receding. Highways and railway lines were reported open, but travel was difficult and gravel and mud roads impassable.

Things were worse, however, in the district northwest of Edmonton. At Manola, on the Pembina River, several families were forced from their homes. The river was reported still rising.

Increase Indicated In Business Tax

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP).—Possibility of an upward revision in the proposed new business tax rate today was indicated by Ald. J. D. Cornett, tax committee chairman, following a private committee meeting.

Ald. Cornett said the tax rent roll would be imposed on only $16,000,000 in city property value, $4,000,000 less than early estimates.

To achieve the $2,200,000 anticipated, the tax rate would have to be increased, he said.

Plans to Resign

NANKING, May 5 (Wednesday) (AP).—Premier Chang Chun announced today that he and the Chinese cabinet would resign collectively prior to the May 8 inauguration of Chiang Kai-Shek as China's first constitutional president.

Chiang's inauguration is slated for the opening of the Legislature May 8.

Margarine Bill Opposed By B.C. Liberal Senator

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP).—Three senators—two Liberals and one Conservative—said today they favor lifting the ban on margarine. Another Liberal opposed any move to relax the prohibition.

The debate was on a public bill, sponsored by Senator W. D. Euler (L., Ontario), to permit importation, manufacture and sale of the butter substitute [illegible] tomorrow. The same bill was defeated in the Senate in 1946 and 1947.

Support of the measure was promised today by Senators Salter Hayden (L., Ontario), Norman Lambert (L., Ontario) and F. P. Quinn (P.C., Nova Scotia). Senator S. S. McKeen (L., British Columbia) said he will vote against it.

Senator Hayden called the ban "intolerant" and "class legislation of the most extreme kind." Margarine would work no hardship on the farmer, he added.

Senator Lambert said the Euler Bill is economically sound and in the best interest of most Canadians. It suggested the kind of "positive, constructive" legislation the country needed.

Senator Quinn said it now is apparent the demand for butter cannot be met. Until dairymen showed they could supply butter requirements, he would be in favor of margarine.

Senator McKeen said he believes supporters of margarine are interested mainly in establishing a new industry. It might harm the dairy industry and, through it, about 400,000 farmers. Passing the Euler Bill would do "great harm and very little good."

Bevin Predicts Little Chance Of Settlement With Russians

LONDON, May 4 (CP).—Foreign Secretary Bevin today commended Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent's idea for new agreements between the democratic countries as a way to long-desired collective security.

In curt, careful phrases, Bevin told the House of Commons that he could see little chance of a lasting settlement with Russia while the Communist ideology was given priority by the Russians in negotiations.

Opening a two-day debate on foreign affairs, Bevin made a bid for expanding the five-power Brussels alliance into a military and economic union of all western European countries which are not satellites "dominated by others." Britain, France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg now comprise the alliance of mutual aid.

Bevin also made an 11th-hour appeal to Arabs and Jews to make a peaceful settlement in Palestine before Britain relinquishes her mandate May 15.

"There is still time for moderation and reason to win, but in a few days it may be too late," he said.

Bevin repeated Britain's intention to terminate her mandate on May 15 and said: "There is no question of using our resources after May 15 to enforce any kind of settlement against the wishes of either party."

In a gruff comment that brought applause, he accused Russia of waging a "war of nerves" in Berlin, and asserted "it is our intention to stay there."

Jet Plane Brings Thrill To Vancouver

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP)—Housewives were frightened and veteran flyers were bug-eyed with excitement today when Wing Cmdr. J. D. Somerville, of the 442 Auxiliary Squadron, seared a path across Vancouver Airport in a Vampire jet plane.

The DeHavilland craft, which arrived 23 minutes after leaving Penticton, a distance of approximately 170 miles, caused a furore as it flew over nearby Burnaby municipality.

Many said the roar of the plane rattled dishes in their homes. Others reported seeing "a mysterious, lightning-fast missile," and still others "heard but couldn't see it."

Wing Cmdr. Somerville, who last week survived a crash landing at Armstrong, Ont., circled the airfield and "reduced" the speed to 200 miles per hour. The Vampire touched down at 95. Its speed capacity is more than 500 miles an hour.

Three more jet planes soon will be added to the squadron's roster as the first line of defence for the West Coast.

U.N. Changes Aired in House

WASHINGTON, May 4 (AP). — Blueprints for a new, stronger United Nations — with or without Russia, were laid before Congress today by a group of Republican and Democratic representatives.

They differed in some details but the broad outlines were the same: Let the United States take the lead in a move to rebuild U.N. with the big-power veto weakened and the peace-keeping authority of the world organization greatly strengthened.

Tomorrow the House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee, holding hearings on U.N. revision proposals, will hear two "outside" witnesses—State Secretary Marshall and the chief United States delegate to the U.N., Warren Austin.

Marshall and his advisers have avoided committing themselves on the Congressional proposals.

Toronto Police Reinstate One Officer

TORONTO, May 4 (CP)—Toronto police commission today reinstated a suspended police inspector, suspended the pay of a detective-sergeant and reprimanded a sergeant for neglect of duty.

The commission was both reviewing earlier decisions and examining a new charge of police brutality against a prisoner.

Today's rulings were:

Inspector George Crawford, previously suspended indefinitely, now found negligent in not reporting acts of subordinates and reprimanded.

Detective-Sergeant Frank Cradduck, formerly dismissed, now suspended to October 1, when on completion of 25 years' service, he will be eligible for a $1,000 annual pension.

(Both charges arose from the beating of John Wilkins, December 22, following his arrest on an armed robbery charge.)

Sergeant Herbert Rehill was found guilty of neglect of duty in his handling of the case of Kiyoshi Kakshima and was fined 10 days' pay. Kakshima was released after wounding his wife and later re-arrested when it was found the injuries were serious.

Urges Defence Of Northwest

SPOKANE, May 4 (AP). — Gen. Mark W. Clark, commanding general of the Sixth Army, said today the Pacific Northwest would be "No. 1 on the hit parade" in case of an enemy attack against the United States.

General Clark said at a press conference that "we should take defensive steps immediately to protect the area," including the Hanford atomic project.

He said air power is the first line of defence in a modern war, but a balanced military force is needed to win.

MAY END STRIKE

PORTLAND, May 4 (AP).—Northwest Greyhound drivers and mechanics will vote Thursday night on a proposal that may end a strike under way in Washington and eastward into Montana since February 28.

The proposal came from the company, but its terms were not disclosed.

Report Police May Prosecute

VANCOUVER, May 4 (CP).—Police today were reported to have decided to prosecute an official of the Kinsmen Club for allegedly conducting an illegal lottery.

This decision is said to have been made at a conference which followed Monday's raid on the club's charity drive headquarters.

It is reported that a summons will be issued against an official of the club.

Club officials earlier today reiterated their intention of continuing the sale of tickets in their drive which, they contend, is legal.

Premier Spaak Soon to Resign

BRUSSELS, May 4 (Reuters). — Premier Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium has decided to hand the resignation of his Government to the Prince Regent, it was learned today.

Reason for Spaak's decision to resign was said to be his own Socialist party's opposition to the Government policy in the 75-year-old dispute between state-sponsored and "free" Roman Catholic schools.

Strike Parley Breaks Down

CHICAGO, May 4 (AP).—Mediation efforts to avert the country-wide rail strike called for May 11 collapsed today.

"We are going to Washington to report our failure to President Truman," Frank Douglass, chairman of the National (Railway) Mediation Board, told reporters.

"Neither the railway brotherhoods nor the carriers will budge from their position as it stood a week ago," he added. He referred to the collapse of attempts of the carriers and unions in joint meetings. They broke up a week ago tonight.

U.N. Council Accepts Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., May 4 (CP).—The United Nations Trusteeship Council tonight accepted a United States plan to help safeguard Jerusalem from war.

The proposal included a previous Arab-Jewish agreement on a cease-fire in the old walled city area of Jerusalem. It also called for naming a neutral commissioner to supervise municipal functions.

Found Stabbed In Timmins

TIMMINS, Ont., May 4 (CP). — Believed murdered for a large sum of money he was reported carrying, the stabbed body of Frank DeLuca was found today with a 14-inch, razor-sharp knife lying nearby.

When the body was discovered there was one cent in a hip pocket but no other money was found in the house, though DeLuca was seen flashing a large roll of bills last night.

DeLuca's house was completely ransacked and there were signs of a terrific fight. Telephone wires were cut and furniture wrecked.

Cigar Maker Passes at 68

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 4 (CP). — Mexican-born Daniel Schnoter, the last of British Columbia's old-time cigar manufacturers, died yesterday. He was 68.

The Schnoter family came from Mexico to Victoria in 1886 and opened the first cigar factory in the capital city. In 1908 Daniel Schnoter established himself in New Westminster.

Berlin Traffic Parley Topic

BERLIN, May 4 (AP). — British and Soviet representatives met today for the first time since the Russians imposed their traffic restrictions upon the Western Allies in Berlin April 1.

They met at Soviet headquarters to discuss arrangements for conferences on traffic questions to open Thursday.

British spokesmen would disclose no details of today's meeting except to say it was held "in a friendly atmosphere."

The United States will not participate in Thursday's meeting.

Officials Will Attend Opening Of New Fire Hall in Saanich

The new $10,000 Saanich fire hall on East Saanich Road will be opened officially at 3 p.m. today by Reeve E. C. Warren.

Civic officials from the surrounding municipalities have been invited. Fire Chief Joseph Law and Municipal Clerk John Tribe are in charge of arrangements.

To be known as No. 2 Hall, the new addition to Saanich Fire Department will have two trucks which will protect the north end of the municipality and Cordova Bay.

Construction of the new hall started in May, 1947. Eleven new firemen have been hired to man the two halls. They will be posted to both halls, allowing experienced men along with recruits to staff the new hall.

Saanich fire hall on Douglas Street is manned by 18 firemen. Fire Chief Law will be in charge of both halls.

MISSING WOMAN HOME

Mrs. W. Bain, since Monday morning, Mrs. W. Bain, 52, 3698 Elliston Avenue, returned home at 7 a.m. yesterday, Saanich police reported.

Greater Victoria police forces had been searching for the woman throughout the night. It is believed she slept outside. She suffered no ill effects.

TO HELP HOSPITAL

Accommodation for children at the Royal Jubilee Hospital is "only 50 per cent of what it should be" and members of the Victoria Kiwanis Club are going to assist in the raising of $40,000 to reconvert the old Strathcona Building, on the hospital grounds, to provide the needed accommodation.

Denis Hagar, in reporting to the club at the Empress Hotel yesterday, said about 1,700 persons who have supported the hospital over the past three years, have been contacted and asked to assist in this project. Members of the service club will take an active part in canvassing for funds.

Saanich Area Faces Brief "Blackout"

Residents of the Saanich Peninsula, from the corner of Haliburton and East Saanich Roads, north to Swartz Bay, will be without electric light and power service next Sunday, between 9 and 10:30 a.m., it was announced today by officials of the B.C. Electric.

The power curtailment has been made necessary to effect repairs to the pole line on the old interurban right of way, between Stelly's Crossroad and West Saanich Road, which collapsed two weeks ago and has since been operating on a temporary basis.

At that time six poles on the 11,000-volt line leading from the company's Brentwood steam plant came down due to excavation work being carried out on the open drainage ditch by the municipally operated steam shovel.

J. W. Casey, B.C. Electric Line Superintendent, said he did not think more than the hour-and-a-half shutdown would be necessary to complete the work of restoring the pole line, although more than the original six poles which came down would have to be relocated.

"I can assure them the line will not be out any longer than we can possibly help," Mr. Casey said. "All available men will be used on the job."

Mailing Cuts Mayor's Fund Parcel Losses

Mailing of the Mayor's Fund parcels to Britain has resulted in only an "infinitesmal" number of parcels going astray and has proven to be the most satisfactory method, Mayor Percy E. George said yesterday.

The mayor received a newspaper clipping in the mail from England complaining that bulk shipments of parcels for needy persons in Britain are sometimes kept in storage while Government offices argue over distribution.

Mayor George said parcels from the city fund are mailed direct to persons on a selected list prepared by the Women's Volunteer Service in England.

To date, only six parcels from the 3,000 sent overseas have failed to reach their destination. Reason for the six going astray was unavoidable change of addresses.

The mayor said the "personal delivery" method ensured by using the mails more than compensated for the slight extra expense.

Saanich Votes $5,000 Grant To Aid Royal Jubilee Hospital

Saanich Council voted last night to make a $5,000 grant to the Royal Jubilee Hospital.

Councillor J. L. Hobbs, who also is president of the board of directors of the hospital, made an urgent appeal for $10,000 for the institution.

Councillor W. C. Kersey seconded Councillor Hobb's motion, but Reeve E. C. Warren moved an amendment that only half of the $10,000 be granted at this time. Remainder of the grant, he said, may be paid later when the council better knows its financial situation.

Councillor Hobbs pressed his request as he did at last week's meeting, but the reeve's amendment received a majority vote. The sum was taken from the contingencies' fund in the estimates.

Councillor Hobbs said that the hospital had "gone behind" about $10,000 in the first three months of operation in 1948.

Councillor Kersey stated that the Provincial Government should be forced to make greater grants to the hospital. He said he would have seconded Councillor Hobb's motion for a $10,000 grant the week before, but he "didn't want to make it too easy." Other council members expressed a similar opinion.

"The Provincial Government is soaking the people left and right. It is up to them to come through," stated Councillor L. Passmore.

Saanich Wards Get $12,000 For Road Work

An allotment of $12,000 per ward for roads and bridges, included in 1948 estimates for Saanich, brought fire from Councillor Thomas Alexander of Ward 1 at last night's council meeting.

"Why should a ward with 55 miles of road receive the same appropriation as one with only 25 miles?" Councillor Alexander wanted to know.

He stated that this was a poor system and that he had been pressing for a considerable time to have it remedied.

The councillor noted that in his own ward there were 55 miles of road, and that the allotment was not nearly sufficient, any more than it was in any other ward.

Council decided in favor of the $12,000 for each ward. Councillor Alexander asked that his negative vote be recorded.

Trades Licences Face Going-Over

Saanich Council decided last night it was time the municipality cracked down on persons neglecting to pay necessary trades licences.

F. S. Green, municipal assessor, told the council that the existing by-law required many amendments and that the whole situation should be carefully considered by the council.

Mr. Green presented to the council a list of trades licences which are charged by the City of Victoria and a comparative list for Saanich. The council will scrutinize the list and make several recommendations.

Saanich Able to Cut School Levy

Contrary to expectations, Saanich financial officers just a few hours before last night's council meeting managed to decrease slightly the school mill rate in Districts 61 and 63.

Tentative school rate in District 61 is now 17.5 mills, a reduction of .1 mill compared with the estimates presented last week.

School District 63 mill rate has been tentatively set at 20.3 mills, which represents a reduction of 1.2 [illegible] from the rate contemplated last week. General levy for the municipality will remain at 21 mills.

Revision of the estimates was made necessary when an amendment to the Municipal Act was enacted just as the council was considering its estimates for 1948 last week. Under the amendment farm improvements, excluding dwellings, up to $5,000 were exempt from school taxation.

In order to meet the situation, certain expenditures decreased. In certain expenditures decreased. In District 63 where the B.C. Electric Brentwood power plant is situated, one-half of the approximately $13,- [illegible] source was credited to the district. This amount figured largely in the larger reduction for District 63.

If the council adopts the estimates presented last night, the total mill rate for District 61 will be 38.5 mills, and in District 63, 41.3 mills.

Reeve E. C. Warren stated that the amendment to the act did not aid a majority of the farmers, and that only those farmers with a large amount of improvements would be helped.

Several councillors objected to the Government's presenting the amendment at this time of the year when estimates were already drawn up.

Auxiliary Squadron

It would be an extraordinary thing if Vancouver Island, with close upon 200,000 population, were not to be represented in the auxiliary squadrons of the Royal Canadian Air Force. This Island and its towns sent hundreds of aircrew personnel into action in the late war. Victoria in this had one of the highest per capita enlistment ratios of any centre in Canada for pilots, navigators and other air crew while the conflict lasted. These men earned D.F.C.'s and D.F.M.'s by the score. Is that already forgotten?

Few places in Canada, if indeed any, can lay as clear claims to year-around flying weather as the southern tip of Vancouver Island. Winter and Summer flying and flight training are possible here under the best of circumstances. This embodies both land and water-landing aircraft. In Canada's scheme of flight training, Patricia Bay looks like a natural site for at least one auxiliary air squadron. At present such efforts are centred at Vancouver so far as British Columbia is concerned.

The auxiliary air squadron is to the Royal Canadian Air Force what the territorial soldiers were to the old-line field army; the training ground from which experienced men could be drawn in the event of a national emergency. Everyone hopes that no such emergency will come again for living generations, but no one in their right senses would bank upon that. If Canada intends to prepare herself defensively in the air, then auxiliary squadrons will be needed and in sufficient numbers to include a nucleus of sizable proportions.

One auxiliary air squadron for British Columbia hardly seems to fit the case.

What About Spreads?

The longer the price-enquiry committee of the House of Commons sits at Ottawa, the more it becomes apparent that it is the public which is taking the licking. Producers, packers, wholesalers, retailers, carriers and other middlemen have each testified in turn that their "prices" are at rock-bottom. Yet the public can trace a spread of from 100 to 200 per cent between the farm and the breakfast table in essential foodstuffs.

Using its own judgment, the public remembers those very strange scarcities of meat in Canada during and following the war years; times when the price of meat jumped marvellously, and failed to recede again. The public remembers, too, how butter, although scarce, went into storage in Summer, to emerge again in Winter at a new all-time high. Everyone who has testified before the committee is, of course, innocent of any intentional "squeeze" in that. Yet the public knows that it paid, and paid through the nose, for the bare essentials of food.

It is the public, also, that it watching now to see what the Government intend to do about it. If the prices inquiry turns merely into a white-washing expedition there will be natural resentment across the country. The reimposition of ceiling prices, when ceilings are at the top, would not be very helpful. What the public is hoping for is that the Administration will examine some of the very strange evidence that has been brought out, and will launch a thorough-going investigation into the state of current "spreads" in the food line of Canada. The public is tired of being milked.

Military Link Renewed

The visit to Victoria of Brigadier A. Hamilton Gault recalls an era which had different attributes. Patriotic citizens of means are no longer called on to finance the organization of regiments in the national interest; the state looks after such things nowadays. Yet it is only thirty odd years since the public-spirited Mr. Gault, as he was then, founded at his own expense—$100,000 incidentally—the regiment which afterwards because famous as the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Highland chieftains and English country gentlemen were wont to do likewise a century or so ago when danger threatened their country. Canada's first Victoria Cross winner, Lieutenant A. R. Dunn, returned from the Crimea to follow the example by raising and commanding the 100th Regiment of Foot (The Prince of Wales' Own Royal Canadians), recruited in this country for service during the Indian Mutiny. Like his predecessors Brigadier Gault went overseas with his regiment and led it into battle, where it bore itself so well in the Great War as to become a regular army unit in peacetime. The Princess Pats carried on equally notably in the World War and remains one of Canada's leading military formations.

Victoria's connection with this regiment is close. Between the world wars half of the unit was stationed at Work Point Barracks and many Victorians served in its ranks. It was from here that the complement left for England in 1939. Postwar distribution of the regular forces has placed regimental headquarters at Calgary and unfortunately deprived this area of the presence of any of its personnel. A pleasant link with the not-distant past is renewed by the visit this week of the distinguished [illegible] of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry.

Ends Troopship Role

Marine circles in Victoria are interested in the news that the Empress of Scotland had finally ended her last transport voyage when she docked on Sunday at Liverpool. This former pride of the C.P.R. Pacific passenger fleet has had an unusually long service career, breaking all records of merchant shipping mileage. A total of 712,689 sea miles in war paint represents a deal of sailing. One can imagine her complement will be glad to shed the battleship grey for white once more.

It was as the Empress of Japan that this large liner was known to shipping interests here, who remember the 26,000-ton vessel and the passengers she disembarked at Victoria in the halcyon days before the war. The Empress of Scotland will now undergo reconversion to her former peacetime role, a piece of work that probably will take some time. If ships, as some sailorfolk believe, do acquire a personality of their own this particular Empress may be looking forward to sailing again on the familliar Canadian Pacific route of former days.

That would be an interesting development and one eagerly awaited here. Some day trans Pacific passenger traffic and other trade must be resumed on at least a measure of the prewar scale. For this port that time cannot come too soon. One would like to think that when she is ready once more for the business she was built for, the Empress of Scotland would be seen again making port at Victoria.

Speed It Up

British Columbia had better get its "pink slip" motor vehicle ordinance working a good deal more smoothly before the tourist season opens next month, or this Province will lose a lot of visitors. Of nearly 300 vehicles seized since the regulation was passed, only 175 cars have since been handed back to their owners. Twenty-six of these vehicles were impounded in instances where there had been do damage whatever save to their owners. The delay involved in other cases became such a byword that the Legislature at its recent session acted to moderate the regulations.

It is those new regulations which are now being applied, but there would still seem to be a good deal too much red tape in freeing vehicles when financial responsibility has been proved.

Residents may stand for a limited amount of being pushed around in this manner, but the tourist certainly will not. If he is snarled in red tape and his trip is halted, he will leave by the first means and return to his own country; there to stay in so far as British Columbia is concerned. Surely a simple formula can be worked out to separate those drivers whom the law was intended to check, and others who were supposed to be protected by it. There is a month left to work it out.

"Selling" a Tax

The promised pamphlet on the effects of the provincial sales tax should make interesting reading. There will have been time to add to the second thoughts that were aired in its support during the measure's stormy passage in the British Columbia Legislature. One does not doubt the arguments will be sweetened persuasively and subtly presented.

It should be revealing, for example, to learn how a family of five spending $175 a month on subsistence will pay less than two dollars in tax as claimed. One trusts the compilation of such statistics are not akin to those Federal statisticians pose as representing what it costs Canadian to live. In this latter case reality and academic blueprint are sadly at variance.

That the Government find it necessary to "sell" the sales tax legislation to the people of British Columbia is perhaps a true index of its unpopularity, as well as an indication of its weakness. It will take more than a nicely-printed pamphlet to assuage public annoyance with this additional levy. No matter how beguiling the phrasing, or how much statistical tables may appear to soften the impact of the tax, the practical result will remain—a fresh drain on the family budget.

British Columbians are sure to find that out, pamphlet or no pamphlet, and before long.

Seen in Passing

The litterbug is indigenous to urban communities of more than 5,000 population. It can be traced by the trail of waste paper, gum wrappers, empty cigarette boxes, bus and theatre tickets which it lays in a chain wherever it goes. It is adult one suspects at seventeen years, but never really matures. It is ambidextrous and can discard litter in public simultaneously with both hands, and often does. Its use to human society has not as yet been discovered.

In Spring-Time

There's many a pool that holds a cloud
Deep down for miles, to float along;
There's many a hedge that's white with may,
To bring the backward birds to song;
There's many a country lane that smells
On beanfields, through the night and day;
Then why should I be here this hour,
In Spring-time, when the month is May?

There's nothing else but stone I see,
With but this ribbon of a sky;
And not a garden big enough
To share it with a butterfly.
Why do I walk these dull dark streets,
In gloom and silence, all day long—
In Spring-time, when the blackbird's day
Is four and twenty hours of song?

—WILLIAM HENRY DAVIES.

The Third Column

By TOM TAYLOR

GORDON'S STATUE

Over in London they are getting excited about a statue. It is an important statue, or at least some people think so, being no less than the likeness raised in stone of General Gordon, the man who reconciled both Bible and sword and could wield either with force when necessary.

It appears that Gordon's statue, which has been in storage for some time, [illegible] its former site in Trafalgar Square and that has drawn fire from old admirers. As a result The Times is full of protests. The famous London daily may not thunder as of yore but its letters columns still echo many a shrill cry.

As to the merits of the dispute no one at this distance can offer any judgment, but seemingly the plan to put the Gordon statue at Sandhurst military college is none too popular. One correspondent says cadets there have no need of a stone image to remind them of Gordon; they read military history as part of their courses. As a national figure his monument should be in London. So runs the argument.

London, of course, like most big British cities, is groaning with statues. It has long been the habit there to praise famous men in bronze or in stone. Whether people take the notice they should of such effigures when they pass them is problematical, although, on the other hand they would be unlikely to think of them at all if there were none.

BEGGING THE QUESTION

I can remember a city square of such monuments, all of distinguished men and true, but who they represented I confess has escaped me. ...part from one or maybe three, a quiz on the subject would find me guessing wildly.

From that you might argue that putting up statues is a foolish business, but this would be begging the question. Sooner or later most eminent men or women become enshrined between book covers, and certainly you learn more about them via this medium than by looking at a stone or bronze likeness. Comparatively few people read biographies, however, and it is good to be reminded of individuals who have left something worthwhile to posterity. Not all statues do that, some had been better left in the casting mould, but those that do invoke thoughts of value, even if in passing only.

Except for very famous men, such as President Roosevelt, whose memorial was unveiled in London last month, not so many are likely to be permanently memorialized in this fashion in future. You might say the age of statues has passed. The urge now is all for the living, it being deemed a waste of good money to put up a monument when you can have a skating rink, for example.

SNEAKING SUSPICION

Whether this is a better method of praising famous men is a matter of opinion. When it comes to perpetuating the memory of groups of men, such as war dead, this columns holds differently. It thinks that a park, a stadium, or an arena is no guarantee that the memorial purpose will avail long; and that even less attention will be paid to that aspect than to a granite statue which people may pass with indifference.

It has a sneaking suspicion, also, that some projects are wrapped up in the guise of a memorial just to raise money. And it has the old-fashioned notion that if you intend to pay tribute to a man or a group of men the way to do it is through some monument unconnected with your own personal enjoyment.

This view is greatly in the minority nowadays, but there it is. If the ice arena ever gets built I don't think one person in ten thousand will ever give the war dead a thought as they plunge through the turnstiles to see a professional hockey match.

Maybe, of course, that is what the war dead would want. So many people claim to think so, but maybe not. This column would not assume such omniscience.

SINGULARLY REMISS

Returning to personal monuments, it is quite clear that Victoria has never been in the habit of praising its illustrious via the hand of the sculptor. It has been singularly remiss in fact, considering the early British influences which moulded this part of the world.

One might have thought there would at least have been a statue to Sir James Douglas, but the founder of Victoria has apparently not rated that distinction. All he gets is an obelisk with his name on it. That's queer, come to think of it.

This city is actually almost statueless. There is only Captain Vancouver, looking out from his lofty perch atop the dome of the Legislative Buildings—And Queen Victoria gazing into the Inner Harbor. And, of course, the Cenotaph, which symbolizes in its one figure the host of Victorians who never came back from war.

There is, too, the diminutive Robert Burns, who keeps Highland Mary company on the Beacon Hill fountain, but that came as a gift from without rather than as an inspiration from within.

Ice arenas and stadiums may not be so out of them after all. Victoria has never been statue conscious, it seems. Perhaps this column has been ringing a solo.

"STILL IN TIME FOR THE . . . ER . . . MAIN ATTRACTION?"

Abdullah Is Key Figure in Middle East

By RUSSELL BARNES
North American Newspaper Alliance.

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., May 4.—No man in the world, probably, is being watched more closely today than Abdullah Ibn Hussein, King of Trans-Jordan.

Abdullah is a world figure, not because he is either genuinely great or strong, or because Trans-Jordan is an important country, but because: The Arab League is pushing Abdullah out in front as the Moslem champion to crush the proposed Jewish Palestine State.

The Jewish agency would like to make a deal with Abdullah, under which Abdullah would annex Arab portions of Palestine, and leave the remainder to the Jews.

So in the confused Palestine problem—complicated to the point that only a Middle Eastern specialist can hope to keep up with what is going on—Abdullah has become the key figure.

Personally, he is described by men who know him as a rather indolent, aesthetic, chess-playing, crafty, Oriental monarch, 66 years old. He is the second son of Sherif Hussein of Mecca, who, according to one British plan, was to become King of Arabia, as well as Caliph, the highest Moslem dignitary.

Previously, his relations were bad with the Grand Mufti, of Jerusalem, head of Palestinian Arabs; King Farouk, of Egypt; King Ibn Saud, of Saudia Arabia; and Syrian and Lebanese politicians. They knew Abdullah aspired to become King of Greater Syria, to include Trans-Jordan, Palestine, Syria, Lebanon and Iraq.

But, according to the experts at United Nations who are watching the changing Middle Eastern picture for their Governments, it is easy to go wrong through paying too much attention to Abdullah's origins, or previous relationships.

Without becoming too involved in the subtleties of the Middle Eastern problem, as it affects Palestine, most Middle Eastern intelligence officers advising their U.N. delegations seem to agree:

Abdullah is being pushed out in front by the Arab League, not only because Trans-Jordan borders Palestine, and has a strong army, but also because Trans-Jordan is not a U.N. member (its membership application has been blocked by Russia). Abdullah is therefore in a position to take actions which might get other Arab nations into trouble with the Security Council.

Old rivalries among Abdullah, Farouk, Ibn Saud and others have been at least temporarily shelved in the face of Jewish ambitions to establish a Palestine tate.

The Grand Mufti has been largely eliminated, first, because the Arab League is running the Palestine show, and, second, because the Mufti lost contact with and control over his Palestine followers during his years of exile.

As long as Abdullah is acting for the Arab League, the Jewish agency has no chance to make a deal which would permit establishment of a tablish a Palestine state.

Neither the Jews nor the Arabs want to let the present situation degenerate into a general Middle Eastern war. The Jews know that if the Arab States go all out, Jewish forces are fairly certain to be crushed, because of their inferiorities in manpower, aircraft, tanks, and heavy artillery. The Arab Governments, on their side, fear that while Arab armies are fighting in Palestine, revolutions might break out at home.

It is because both Jews and Arabs want to avoid a decision war that the American delegation, at least, figures present negotiations—both open and undercover—may result in a Jewish-Arab truce, before the British surrender their mandate May 15.

But action will have to come fast, because the Palestine fighting is steadily growing worse, and the British will step out in two weeks.

From now on the eyes of the world will be on Abdullah.

DONORS THANKED

Sir,—May I, through your paper, extend my sincere thanks to our many friends who so generously aided us with their donations of linen and cash at our linen shower last week at the Protestant Orphans' Home.

President Ladies' Auxiliary, Protestant Orphans' Home, Victoria, B.C., May 4, 1948.

BEAR AT PARK

Sir,—Now that the spate of letters protesting the cruelty practiced in the training of circus animals has subsided—and there is no doubt that there is a great deal of such cruelty in many cases—may we not pause to drop a tear or two on behalf of our own special case which has been going on for some 24 years right under our eyes without our seeing it apparently. In the middle of our beautiful Beacon Hill Park, surrounded by some of God's most lovely trees and flowers, there exists a wretched little white bear sentenced to life imprisonment with solitary confinement just because he had the misfortune to be born white instead of black. This was his crime. True, he does furnish some amusement and entertainment to boys who have a lot of fun throwing stones at him, and he makes an excellent target, as he cannot get away. Just by way of variety some prankster with a keen sense of humor set fire to his coat not so long ago, and just as he was beginning to burn nicely, some spoil-sport sent for the fire department which came and put him out. Judging by the tone of the many letters you have printed recently, we are evidently a kind-hearted and sympathetic people who hate to see animals cruelly treated. Why, then, in heaven's name do we not dry some of our crocodile tears and see if we cannot take the beam out of our own eye so that we can see more clearly to remove the mote from the eye of the cruel animal trainer?

Honest Tars—One of the Blue Jackets belonging to a ship docked in this harbor stole a watch and other property on Sunday night from a resident in town. When the Blue Jackets heard that one of their number was accused of the offence, they instituted a search, discovered the offender, recovered the property and handed the culprit over to the police.

Observation Car

By G.B.

From an article on Communism in the Seattle Times: "Russian city workers live in houses and barracks owned by the state, paying high rents. Today, 30 years after the Communist party promised them a workers' paradise, they subsist by a work-wages-price system under which a man has to work 320 hours to earn the price of a suit of clothes, 106 hours for a pair of shoes, 28 hours for a work shirt, two hours for a pound of bread, and 12 hours for a pound of butter" . . . It is hard for normal persons to understand how Communists in our midst seek to overthrow the democratic way of life and replace it with a dictatorship. Perhaps the subversive elements have grandiose visions of becoming leaders if a new system of government were developed . . . When Bill, the Broad Street barber, sat down to a cross-word puzzle at lunchtime, he encountered difficulty in finding another word for a creditor. "Can you give me a hand?" he asked the boss. "A creditor is a man who has a better memory than a debtor," the boss chuckled . . . "A motorist is a man who sees a bad accident, and then drives carefully for at least two blocks," Barber Ben told a customer . . . During a visit to a friend in a real estate office, the Keating Squire noticed a number of deep scratches on top of the man's desk. "You should wear rubber heels to protect that desk," the squire observed . . . "How are you today?" Tobacconist Martin asked a customer. "Oh just killing time," the man replied. "A man who kills time often murders opportunities," Martin commented . . . By the time a man has accumulated enough money so that he can sleep late every day, he is so old that he awakens early . . . Ford mows 'em in a motorist everybody is trying to know except how to look them again.

Where blanks occur in the table the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

CORPS AID BUREAU

Members of the Victoria Girls' Drill Corps have collected $25 from their membership and sent it to the Victoria Rotary Club for its proposed new Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau to be built at the north end of the Causeway.

With the cheque went the following note:

"The type of building proposed . . . and the location selected will be an added attraction to our beautiful city and cannot but impress our visitors that we are desirous of rendering to them the fullest possible service."

Today's Answer

The air in the pores and between the fibres of wood makes it weigh less per cubic foot than an equal volume of water. Hence, when the wood is placed in the water, it sinks down until it displaces its own weight in water. This naturally is a smaller volume than the total volume of the wood. The extra volume of the wood remains above the surface, and the wood floats.

According to Culbertson - - - -

(Copyright, 1948, by Ely Culbertson)

For reasons that have always been obscure to this observer, many of the leading masters have an aversion to jump takeouts. They seem to prefer the simple, non-jump responses to opening bids, apparently feeling that they can later announce their full strength.

That this philosophy does not always lead to the best results is exemplified by the following deal, which was man-handled by two of the highest rated players in the United States.

South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ Q J 8
♥ K Q J 7 4
♦ K 10
♣ A K J

WEST
♠ 9 5 4
♥ 8 3
♦ J 6 5 2
♣ Q 9 7 4

EAST
♠ 10 7 6 3
♥ A 10 5
♦ 9 4
♣ 10 8 6 2

SOUTH
♠ A K 2
♥ 9 6 2
♦ A Q 8 7 3
♣ 5 3

This was the rather remarkable bidding sequence:

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
2 ♦	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	5 N.T.	Pass
6 ♦	Pass	Pass	Pass

Astonishing as it may appear to the average player—who, incidentally, could never be guilty of reaching such an inferior contract, North obviously did not think enough of his holding to bid two hearts in response to the opening diamond bid. It is equally obvious, however, that he spent the rest of the auction in attempting to make up for his first-round ambiguousness. His jump from two diamonds to three hearts was the first part of this effort, and when South then raised to four hearts, North tried to round out the picture by jumping to five no trump.

This latter bid was in no sense conventional or forcing—it merely announced a generally powerful hand. Unfortunately, however, the bid did not seem to straighten out the South player. The latter, convinced that his partner had a "powerhouse," but evidently unsure about the best trump suit, now did some clouding of the issue on his own account. South's six-diamond bid was not to be commended from any point of view; six hearts would have been substantially better, and six no trump even better than that.

It is true that, saddled with an inferior contract, South should have made the best of things by finessing against the jack of diamonds to dummy's ten-spot, but he missed out on this analysis and went down one. The real trouble, however, was in the bidding, starting with North's absurd disinclination to answer the opening diamond bid with two hearts.

Many Labor Code Amendments Sought by C.M.A., Labor Group

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP). — Major changes in the Federal Government's new labor code were proposed today by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in a brief submitted to the Commons' Industrial Relations Committee.

The committee now is considering the code, which has been given second reading in the Commons. It provides machinery for settling industrial disputes in such interprovincial industries as railways, shipping and communications.

The long list of C.M.A. proposals is headed by one to exclude foremen from collective bargaining provisions of the act. As drafted, the bill would exclude persons "exercising management functions," but not foremen specifically.

The association expressed "strong opposition" to writing into the code provision for "union security," such as the employer's check-off of union dues.

This point came up separately before the committee today, and the members decided to defer action on the question. In its present form, the bill does not include it.

The association asked for a clause declaring that every employee has the right to refrain from being a member of a union. The code says he has the right to be a member, but does not state the converse.

LABOR BRIEF

Earlier, the Canadian Congress of Labor proposed amending the British North America Act to enable the Federal Government to take jurisdiction over industrial relations in all Canadian industry to the committee.

In a brief sharply critical of the proposed Federal Labor Code as it now stands, the Congress contended it would not bring about uniformity in labor legislation under the existing constitutional set-up. This was a major goal of the Government in creating the legislation.

Provision is made for extending the code into other fields, but only where provinces pass legislation to transfer jurisdiction to the Dominion.

The Labor Department also hopes it will serve as a model for labor laws under provincial jurisdiction. Ontario, Manitoba and Nova Scotia have adopted similar legislation.

But the Congress declared this still left the three main industrial provinces—Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia—with different systems, with three other systems operating in Saskatchewan, Alberta and Prince Edward Island.

"Nation-wide industrial disputes in basic industries," it said, "might paralyze the whole industrial life of the country, yet the nation's government would be powerless to intervene. A great national emergency would have to be dealt with by . . . perhaps seven or eight provincial governments, under varying legislation, with the National Government a helpless spectator."

...Oddities...

PENTICTON, B.C., May 4 (CP). — A duckling, mothered by a hen, drowned in a tub of water here because he just didn't know how to swim.

Hugh Gough loaned his hen to a neighbor who set her with six duck eggs. Two of the eggs hatched. Water was provided for their swimming.

One of the ducklings apparently didn't have any instincts about the matter.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., May 4 (AP).—John L. Franklin's asparagus crop is sprouting, but he's not happy.

Franklin planted the asparagus three years ago. It didn't come up so he built a driveway over the barren patch. For surfacing he used four inches of gravel and two inches of asphalt.

Now the driveway is splitting and the asparagus is peeking through the crack.

CAPITOLA, Calif., May 4 (AP).—Ronald Weaver and Andrew Sieafh went fishing. They didn't return.

Next morning Police Chief Robert Mondelle found their parked car, then followed the trail.

He found the fishermen. They'd become lost and spent a quiet Sunday night in the woods.

But they didn't mind—each had his limit of trout.

CHAPLIN, Sask., May 4 (CP).—Steve Fedorenko is looking for 1,000 feet of lariat rope with a car tied to one end.

While chatting in his store he saw the coil of rope, valued at $100, uncoiling and disappearing through the front door.

He rushed out in time to see a car driving off with the rope tied to the bumper.

Pension Act Changes Advocated

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP).—In a rush of business, the Commons Committee on Veterans' Affairs recommended today the elimination of a clause in the War Pensions' Act that has been the hub of controversy for 29 years.

It also made a clean sweep in passing on to the Government the last of six Canadian Legion recommendations for changes in pensions' law or in administration.

The committee voted 12 to 8 to ask the Government to amend the act so as to provide that "Pension shall be paid for the entire disability of any veteran who served in an actual theatre of war except only if it was obvious at time of enlistment."

The vote followed protests of the Legion against a section which allows pensions to be paid only for wartime aggravations if a disability was "wilfully or deliberately concealed at time of enlistment" or if the disability "was recorded on medical examination prior to enlistment."

The vote came on a motion by G. S. White (P.C., Hastings-Peterborough) after Mr. White and Dr. W. G. Blair (P.C., Lanark) attacked the "wilful concealment" clause as the source of "bitterness, distrust and injustice" among veterans. T. J. Bentley (C.C.F., Swift Current) assailed it as "shameful" to men who had concealed old ailments on enlistment "for the grand and noble" purpose of serving their country.

The committee's other recommendations to the Government were these:

1. That pensions for Great War pensioners be stabilized. Members accepted a recommendation from Victor Quelch (S.C., Acadia) that would prevent reduction in assessment of a disability on which pension has been paid for three years or more.

2. That fractional assessment of disabilities be determined on progressions of 5 per cent. The change would mean that a 30 per cent pension would be paid for any assessment from 28 to 32 inclusive.

The main effect would be to ensure automatic widows' pensions for wives on death of pensioners now rated at 48 and 49 per cent. The law now provides that automatic pensions go only to widows of pensioners of 50 per cent or more disability.

3. That wives and children of Great War pensioners be entitled to dependents' allowances, regardless of date of marriage.

TORONTO, May 4 (CP). — John Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative M.P. for Lake Centre, Saskatchewan, is confined to a hotel here with what he described in a telephon interview tonight as "a touch of the 'flu."

Committee Somewhat Vague On Human Rights Program

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP).—The Parliamentary Human Rights Committee met today — but didn't know quite what to do about it.

The committee's problem was to deal with the draft of an international bill of human rights, drawn up by The Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms Commission of [illegible] Economic and Social Council.

But a draft is subject to change. Several members couldn't see any object in discussing it at present.

"The various committees and commissions of the United Nations are drafting bills while we're sitting here trying to do the same thing," said Rev. E. G. Hansell (S.C., Macleod).

"It seems to me that before we go any farther each nation will have to define its own impression of human rights and fundamental freedoms."

Senator T. A. Crerar (L., Manitoba) agreed.

"It would appear flailing the air pretty much—any considerations we can give at present," he mused.

On the other hand, Alistair Stewart (C.C.F., Winnipeg North) criticized Senator Crerar for "taking a pessimistic attitude." The essential thing was to come down to [illegible] derstanding of the meaning of human rights.

E. R. Hopkins of the External Affairs Department legal division, who appeared as witness, said that so far Pakistan, The Netherlands, Australia, the United States and Canada have expressed views on the document. But Canada had given only an "interim" reply, saying she was not yet prepared to make any statement.

The committee adjourned in late afternoon, possibly until next week.

Further Ban Announced On U.S. Goods

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP). — Trade Minister Howe today announced a further list of goods which will be banned from import to Canada under an extension of the Government's dollar-saving program.

The new list includes a wide variety of machinery parts when imported for production purposes, such as parts for typewriters, vacuum cleaners, washing and sewing machines, clothes wringers, Diesel engines and electric and radio equipment. Most of the items involved already were under the import ban, and the new restrictions will prevent parts of these items being imported for production purposes in Canada.

The announcement said no import permits for the items would be issued unless the goods were in continuous and uninterrupted transit to Canada on or before May 4, "or unless their use is considered essential to the national economy." The move was a further step in the Government's program to conserve foreign exchange, it added, and similar announcements may be expected from time to time.

TRY TO RETURN

WINNIPEG, May 4 (CP).—Many Yugoslavs who left Canada a year ago for their homeland now are making efforts to return to this country but are finding it "difficult" to get out of Yugoslavia, Peter Stankovic, editor of the weekly Croatian Voice, said today.

Commons Hears Praise Of Russia; U.S. Criticized

OTTAWA, May 4 (CP).—The Commons today alternately heard Russia cautiously defended and the United States sharply criticized.

William Irvine (C.C.F., Cariboo) said he is convinced that many of the things "which many of us say and believe about the Russians are just as false as some of the things they say and believe about us."

The Russians believed that the evils they suffered under the Czars could be traced to capitalism. As a result, they now were as afraid of capitalism as "we are of their Communism." Mr. Irvine urged that efforts be made to find the "desirable synthesis" between the two extreme ideologies "without our fighting it out on the battlefield . . ."

John Blackmore (S.C., Lethbridge), placed blame for the world's current troubles squarely on the United States.

"If you want to know where lies the cause of the distrust of men all over the earth, look to the United States of America."

Mr. Blackmore, born in Sublett, Idaho, 57 years ago, said he still loves the United States but one has to face the facts.

"The immediate material cause of the general situation is the United States; the United States with her enormous productive potential, with her rich and varied resources, with her large population, but her faulty domestic distribution.

"Notwithstanding that this nation is wealthy beyond all the nations that ever existed on the face of the earth, she has as many people per hundred within her borders who are on the verge of starvation and who are filled with dread as we have."

Marionette Show To Be Presented

Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, will present the Scott Marionettes in "It's None Too Easy" here on Thursday, May 20 and Friday, May 21, at 8:30 p.m. in the Prince Robert House.

Each year the Scotts fill many successful engagements in California, Oregon and Washington. This will be their first appearance here.

The plot of "It's None Too Easy" is the age old folk tale of the wife's life being considered "too easy" by her husband, so they exchange places. The ensuing difficulties are mirth provoking as the baby wades in the duck pond with the geese. The animals wander at will in the garden and the supper is never ready. Sponsors for the Scotts include the Seattle Art Museum, Pasadena Playhouse, Palo alto Community Centre, East Bay Hospital Association and many others. Convener for Zeta Chapter sonsorship is Miss Elizabeth Prangnell.

Engagements

The engagement is announced, and the marriage to take place Friday, June 4th, between Sarah Crawford (Sadie), only daughter of Mr. Wm. Cluff and the late Mrs. Wm. Cluff of 2712 Shelbourne St., to Mr. Bertram James Wheeler, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wheeler of 2646 Quadra St.

Announcements to appear under this heading will be accepted at The Colonist Advertising Department. Minimum charge $1.50 for 10 lines and 15c for each additional line.

Miss Brown Describes The Delight of Poetry

In an address to members of the Women's Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon, Miss Audrey Alexandra Brown, well-known Victoria author, took as her subject "The Thrill of Poetry." Miss Brown, the first woman poet to win the Lorne Pierce Gold Medal of the Royal Society of Canada, has had a number of books published and her latest, entitled "All Fools' Day," will be off the press in September.

In a delightful manner, Miss Brown told the audience how she "discovered" poetry and she emphasized that it isn't always necessary to understand it to really enjoy it. She said that people differ greatly in their taste in poetry and that often one poem will affect one person while it may not have any affect at all on another. Often this means that it is not that person's kind of poetry and quite often one finds people who are immune to poetry altogether. However, Miss Brown pointed out that one should be as aware of poetry as of color and rhythm, stressing that these factors are both found in poetry.

"Too many people associate poetry with insincerity," Miss Brown continued. "Considering that it is a very ancient art, as old nearly as man himself, it certainly should have an important place in our lives.

"Poetry is not verse, not flabby, weakening or effeminate, but is as dynamic as radium," Miss Brown stressed. To illustrate Miss Brown read six of her favorite poems, including "Nob" and "The Song of the Mad Prince" by Walter de la Mare.

Miss Brown concluded by saying that "poetry is infectious and as soon as one discovers the enchantment of it, one will be richer for it as long as one lives." Miss Doris Fern extended a vote of thanks to the speaker.

Mrs. Kenneth Drury, who presided, announced that Mrs. Osborne will speak at the next meeting to be held at the Empress Hotel on May 13, when her subject will be "Women in the Salvation Army."

Bride Presents Bouquet to Her Grandmother

St. Stephen's United Church at Qualicum Beach was the scene of a wedding of interest on Saturday afternoon when Rev. H. P. Davidson united in marriage Evelyn Beryl, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril F. Bagnall, pioneer residents of Qualicum Beach, and Earle Trueman Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Mitchell, also of Qualicum Beach. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was in a floor-length gown of white net over satin, fashioned with off-the shoulder neckline and short peplum. Her long veil fell gracefully from a coronet headdress of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of dark red roses and fern. Her only attendant, Miss Mary Carlyle of Victoria, whose apple green taffeta model gown featured shoulder ruffles and net yoke, wore a halo-hat with green ostrich tip trimming. She carried a bouquet of yellow Irises, white stocks and fern.

The groom's brother Mr. Norman Mitchell, acted as best man and ushers were Mr. Cass Anderson, and Mr. R. "Bob" Bagnall, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother chose a navy blue bolero dress, trimmed with navy and white, with white accessories, and corsage of pink carnations, while the mother of the groom wore a tailleur in raspberry shade, with white accessories, and a corsage of pale pink and white carnations. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Mary Smith sang "The Wedding Prayer" with Mrs. H. J. Welch at the organ.

The young couple were assisted by their respective parents in receiving the 125 guests who gathered at the K. of P. Hall for the reception. The bride's table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake, bearing an ornament which decorated the cake at the celebration of the golden wedding anniversary of her grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Jones. Mr. E. D. Thwaites proposed the toast to the bride, and to her grandmother. As she was leaving, Mrs. Mitchell, in a charming gesture, gave her bouquet to her grandmother.

For traveling, the bride chose an aqua gabardine suit, matching hat, brown gabardine top-coat, with white accessories, and she wore a corsage of white gardenias.

Following the honeymoon trip to the Okanagan, the young couple will return to make their home in Qualicum Beach. Out of town guests included Miss Natalie Watts of Vancouver, Miss Christine Kennedy, Nanaimo, and Miss Gloria Sanders of Victoria.

Fishermen May Adopt Long Lines for Tuna

Marine News

For a number of years, Japanese fishermen have successfully used long line methods in the tuna fishery, and adoption of the method by British Columbia fishermen may come about this year.

This opinion was expressed yesterday by A. J. Whitmore, chief supervisor of fisheries for the Dominion Government, who conferred with fishermen and heads of fishing interests of this city.

The meeting, held in the Belmont Building, was convened primarily to discuss ways and means of developing the tuna industry for British Columbia fishermen. It was felt that a large tuna fishery would be ideal for halibutters, who now have such a short season each year. They could turn immediately to tuna when the halibut season closed, Mr. Whitmore said.

He reported the Fisheries vessel, Laurier, will be used this season as a survey ship on offshore waters of the Province. The vessel will send out frequent broadcasts to provide fishermen with data regarding water temperatures and locations of tuna schools. She will also be equipped to assist any fishing vessel in distress.

Laurier is at present undergoing refit work at H.M.C. Dockyard.

Mr. Whitmore's program here included visits to various fishing companies and Provincial Fisheries offices.

Pay Boost for Crews

Wage increases ranging from $15 to $20 a month have been approved for crews of C.G.S. Parry and C.G.S. William J. Stewart — two Federal Government hydrographic survey vessels operating out of Victoria — according to a Canadian Press dispatch from Ottawa.

W. K. Willis, head of the Dominion Hydrographic Survey offices here in the Belmont Building, said last night crew members of the two vessels will be approached sometime today to determine whether or not they are agreeable to the new wage rates.

At present the William J. Stewart is completing [illegible] and refit job, and the Parry is scheduled to go on a short job in local waters this morning. The Stewart will not be ready to start operations for a couple of weeks.

Acting Mines Minister said in the Commons that the increases will be retroactive to January 1. The Ottawa dispatch says the minister believed the wage boosts would be satisfactory to crew members of both vessels.

The crews originally declined to sign articles on the basis of last year's wages pending receipt of a new schedule from the Department of Labor. The Labor Department schedule was received in Ottawa on April 29 and was approved yesterday after two minor points had been cleared up.

Fishermen May Adopt Long Lines for Tuna

Marine News

For a number of years, Japanese fishermen have successfully used long line methods in the tuna fishery, and adoption of the method by British Columbia fishermen may come about this year.

This opinion was expressed yesterday by A. J. Whitmore, chief supervisor of fisheries for the Dominion Government, who conferred with fishermen and heads of fishing interests of this city.

The meeting, held in the Belmont Building, was convened primarily to discuss ways and means of developing the tuna industry for British Columbia fishermen. It was felt that a large tuna fishery would be ideal for halibutters, who now have such a short season each year. They could turn immediately to tuna when the halibut season closed, Mr. Whitmore said.

Report on Mormon Conference

MEMBERS of Western Canadian Mission, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, arrived in Victoria yesterday to report last night to 65-member branch of L.D.S. Church here on general conference held April 6, at Salt Lake City, Utah. Conference sessions had average attendance of 13,000, said G. G. Fisher, president of Western Canadian Mission, Edmonton. Latter-Day Saints Church was founded April 6, 1830. Local Mormons plan own chapel when site can be obtained, he said. Shown left to right, are S. R. Nixon, Edmonton; T. L. Air Shipments Help Growers

Air shipments of certain types of flowers over large distances have proved highly satisfactory, according to recent tests made by the Dominion Experimental Station, Saanichton.

To Saanich bulb growers, who produce the first Spring flowers available in Canada, the experiments are of vital importance.

Daffodils, narcissus, tulips, iris, hyacinths, muscari and anemone are among the flowers that survived the tests, but violets and camellias were received back at the Saanichton station in unsatisfacory condition.

Additional tests are contemplated which may indicate that a special type of pack may be required for these two, the station reported.

St. Mary's Scene Of Pretty Wedding

In the vestry of St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, Saturday, May 1, Venerable Archdeacon A. E. deL. Nunns heard the marriage vows of Norah, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Johnson, 2084 King's Road, and William Mason, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mason. The bride was becomingly attired in a pearl grey wool-crepe suit with matching accessories and a white Milan straw hat trimmed with navy blue ribbon. Her only jewelry was a double strand of pearls, and a corsage of white sweet peas and pink rosebuds completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Charlton Smith wearing a sand-beige suit with dark brown accessories and a corsage of gardenias and pink carnations, attended her sister. Mr. H. W. Rivers acted as best man for the groom. The home of the bride's parents was the scene of the reception following the wedding ceremony. A three-tiered cake, flanked by silver vases filled with sweetheart roses and sweet peas, centred the lace-covered table. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Charlton Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason will spend their honeymoon up the Island, the bride donning a Donegal tweed topcoat over her wedding costume with brown suede accessories for traveling. On their return they will reside at 2369 Musgrave Street.

Signallers Lack Relish, Supply Own

Personnel of the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals stationed in the Northwest Territories showed no lack of initiative when a shortage of pickles and relish arose.

At Fort Resolution, on Great Slave Lake, they are making their own.

So popular has the desire for homemade relish proved that its manufacture from army rations has become big business.

Ingredients in the army's tomato chutney include canned tomatoes, canned pears, canned peaches and canned apples. Green peppers, if available, may be thrown in for good measure, but to date they are virtually unheard of in the Slave Lake district.

The soldiers claim the chutney recipe adds much to the flavor of army mulligan.

Girl Guide Notes

Girl Guides of the Central District presented the historical pageant "Days of Glory" in the auditorium of Queen Margaret's School, Duncan, on Saturday, May 1. Miss Denny, principal of the school, had invited the group to present the play. Parents and friends provided transportation for the cast. The entertainment was in aid of the Canadian appeal for children in the devasted areas in Europe.

The 1st Saanichton Girl Guide Company held the regular outing on Saturday in the form of a hike to Spring Valley on the farm of Mr. E. Lynn, East Saanich Road. The company followed a sketch map to the destination, where various activities, including second class test work, were undertaken. Plans are being made for members to attend the rally for His Excellency the Governor-General on May 12.

Fine Etchings, Paintings Seen in Spring Exhibit

Etchings in the classical style by Maud F. Sharp, distinguished Royal Academician of London, England, and seven paintings in water color and tempera by Harry Mist made up the Spring Exhibition of the Arts Centre of Greater Victoria on Tuesday afternoon in the sunroom of the Windermere Hotel.

Largely portraying the Gothic and Tudor architecture of the Old Country, Miss Sharp's work is characterized by a fineness of line and an 18th century formality in treatment.

Particularly striking were three copperplates of gems of English churches. They were hung in last year's exhibition at the Royal Academy and showed Salisbury and Wells Cathedrals. Third of the "accepted" drawings was a delicately etched black and white of a ruined Delhi, India, palace.

Totaling 39 etchings, some of which are owned by the artist's sister, Miss Olive Sharp, Vancouver, the exhibition is scheduled to travel next to New York.

Miss Maud Sharp was elected a fellow of the Royal Society of Etchers early this year.

LOCAL MAN'S WORK

Completing the May showing of the Arts Centre were five water colors and two tempera drawings by a local artists, Harry Mist, formerly of Honolulu.

Here the artist has killfully captured the glorious color in flower pattern of the tropics.

The beautiful reds of his "Torch Ginger" and "Day-Blooming Cereus" [illegible] with the more sombre tones of "Cup of Gold" and the browns and beiges of "Coconut Blosson."

Opening the Spring showing of the Arts Centre, Colonel William Caspar, chairman, thanked the artists for allowing their work to be shown. He said the Centre hoped to sponsor monthly exhibits of all forms of art.

All works on exhibition, which is open until Sunday at 6 p.m., are for sale.

Island Highway Tenders Likely By Next Week

Tenders for the 18-mile stretch of the Island Highway from Chemainus through Duncan to Ladysmith may be called next week, it was learned yesterday.

The Public Works Department has not yet announced which of two alternative routes will be selected, but it was indicated the easterly route might be chosen because of [illegible] present Island Highway a few miles south of Duncan and follows the E. & N. Railway through that city, joining up with the Island road again north of Duncan. It would eliminate numerous winding curves in the present road.

When it is finished, only the section between Qualicum and Cook's Creek, a short section at Mill Bay and one or two other small portions will remain to finish rebuilding of the Island Highway from Langford to Courtenay. The department plans to build the Qualicum-Cook's Creek and Mill Bay section next year.

Meanwhile surveys are under way to determine the best routes for a road from Langford into Victoria and from Patricia Bay into the city, the latter survey being undertaken under an arrangement by which the Federal Government will pay half the cost.

The children were welcomed by the pack and afterwards joined in the games.

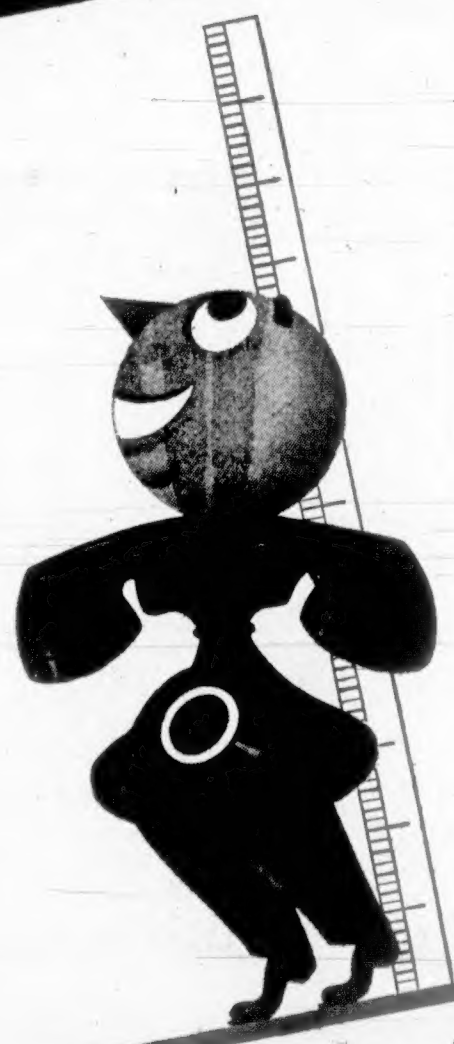
This Goes For Us, Too!



Your attention is called to the advertisement at the left, cut from a recent magazine. It is not one of our ads. It was inserted by the Bell Telephone System of the United States, largest organization of its kind in the world. But the story the ad tells of the great problems facing the telephone industry south of the border is relatively the same as ours—striking evidence that all telephone systems are "in the same boat."

We, too, have broken all records in installing new telephones in recent years: and we, too, still have a waiting list (in our case, more than 19,000 names) of people whom we are as yet unable to serve because of shortages of material and equipment.

We, like the Bell System, have "a lot of growing to do", but we're on our way.

A LOT OF GROWING TO DO

This is a big country and to furnish nation-wide telephone service, the Bell System has had to be big for a long time. But in the last few years it hasn't been nearly big enough.

Even though we've broken all records and added more than 6,000,000 new telephones in the past two years, there are still about a million orders for service that we haven't been able to fill because of lack of equipment, switchboards, cable and buildings. Many more Long Distance circuits also are needed.

It will take time and a lot of money to make the Bell System big enough for the nation's needs but we're on our way — in a big way — to giving you more and better service than ever before.

All Weather Public--Save in Air

What is public weather?

W. Gilmore Clarke, acting superintendent of public weather for the Dominion Meteorological Service at Toronto is now in Victoria on an official survey mission and hardly a day goes by without some person making a remark, most of them on the so-called funny side, about the 'public weather' issue.

Mr. Clarke is getting tired of explaining. "So, here's how it is: such thing as private weather and weather is public, I guess," he remarked yesterday. "But public weather is a term applied to mark the difference in so far as forecasting is concerned between that type and aviation weather.

Public and aviation weathers, he explained, were two very different things.

Weather Expert Reminds Audience Perfect Forecasts Not Attainable

As a result of surveys now being made by W. Gilmore Clarke, acting superintendent of public weather for the Dominion Meteorological Service in Toronto, Victoria may be getting improved weather forecasts in the not too distant future.

This was indicated by Mr. Clarke in an address before the Chamber of Commerce airport meeting yesterday in the Arcade auditorium.

He had been sent to this city, he explained, to make an intensive survey regarding Victoria's weather forecasts following complaints received in Ottawa by R. W. Mayhew, MP, who claimed forecasts for the city were generally inaccurate.

Details of his report and recommendations will not be announced until they have reached his Toronto office.

He said at present hourly weather observations are made at the Gonzales Observatory between 7:30 a.m. and 10:30 p.m. If such observations were made throughout the 24 hours Victoria would probably have improved weather predictions.

A detailed investigation into Victoria weather was conducted from the Toronto office, he said. This covered the period from January 1 to March 31. A detailed study was made and recommendations worked out so that forecasts were made for Victoria, Patricia and Queen Charlotte Islands.

New Building Little Help To Government

The new $180,000 Provincial Government building on Superior Street is now ready for occupancy, but no staffs are ready to move in, Works Minister E. C. Carson said yesterday.

The new building will do little to relieve the cramped conditions of overcrowding in provincial buildings.

It is now expected the entire space available will be taken up by the extra tax staff, liquor inspectors' staff and others, while the cruiser H. R. MacMillan will be necessitated by new legislation.

Reserve Army Bands Win High Praise

Standard of excellence achieved by Canadian Army bands is "first class," Major A. L. Streeter, director of army bands, reported following a six-month tour of some 67 bands of the Reserve Force.

Topping the list is the band of Toronto's 48th Highlanders of Canada in the "superb" classification.

Considering that the majority of most bandsmen are young members without previous experience secured from the ranks of the unit, Major Streeter said the standard reached is an amazing one.

He said all displayed keenness and enthusiasm and general discipline and deportment was very good.

During his tour he inspected 46 military and brass bands, 13 pipe bands, four trumpet bands and four bugle bands. He also visited ten units on band matters but bands were not available for inspection.

Mainland Soccer Official Retires

VANCOUVER May 4 (CP)—Soccer fans were surprised today with news that Alex Reid, hard working secretary of the V and D League, will retire at the end of the current season because of poor health.

For years he has been active in junior, juvenile, intermediate and V and D Leagues. But, it is learned, Alex is in line for a job as commissioner of the junior and juvenile loops.

And he has a permanent job as chief critic of North Shore Reds' right half — his son.

BREMERTON Wash. May 4 (AP)—Ted Nelet of Walla Walla defending champion staged a blazing finish today to defeat Frank Newell Tacoma one up and move into the finals of the $500 Northwest Professional Golfers' Organization annual golf tournament.

Toe Blake Plans To Try It Again

MONTREAL May 4 (CP)—Hector Toe Blake, the old lamplighter of Montreal Canadiens, isn't ready to hang up his skates.

The veteran left-winger who piloted Houston Huskies to the United States Hockey League title last season after he suffered a broken ankle in a National League game, said today he will play softball this Summer to test the ankle.

If the ankle proves strong enough he will be out to earn a regular berth with the Habitants next Fall. If it doesn't, well, The says coaching Houston is a pretty good job to go back to.

Never a Dull Moment Circus Manager Finds

NEW YORK, May 3 (NANA)—Fred Smythe, manager of the Congress of Strange People From the Far Corners of the Earth for Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey, declared today in Madison Square Garden that his 60 charges are a circus within a circus.

"I've never had a dull moment since I took over as manager of the freaks and sideshow acts 11 years ago. [illegible] sword swallower might have hiccups and the next the giant will have a beef about his shoes pinching him. Always something doing."

He cited an instance of temperament between two of his charges, which ended up in a courtroom with the show's sword swallower, Miss Patricia Zerm, accused of assault.

"We were showing in Kansas City in 1943 when the sword swallower and the fat girl got into an argument and Patricia hopped the fat girl over the head with a pop bottle. The strong man pulled them apart, the cops were called and the whole show went to court."

Sympathy was with Patricia, he said, and the matter was dropped when the fat girl, who had a reputation for orneriness, took off for parts unknown before the case could be tried.

GIANT FAVORITE

One of Smythe's biggest enthusiasms this year is Johann Petursson, the Icelandic giant, who stands eight feet, eight inches tall and weighs 450 pounds.

"I've never had a guy who has problems," he said. "When I met his plane from Iceland he was bent over and mumbling angrily in Icelandic. It turned out that he was forced to sit jackknifed in the plane for 21 hours, and he was sure his back was broken."

Smythe took the giant to a hotel room, where other problems immediately arose.

"First, it was the bed, which was too small for him. We wound up by taking four beds apart and laying the springs and mattresses out on the floor. Then Petursson sat in a chair, the chair collapsed, and we had to dig up an oversized loveseat for him. No one can sit on it with him, though."

Petursson's problems didn't stop there. He wears a size 10 hat and size 24 shoes, items which aren't common over-the-counter merchandise in stores here. Smythe finally located a hat company and a uniform concern which agreed to make them. Cost: $250 for a silk high hat, $75 for a felt one, and $100 for a pair of shoes.

START RECONVERSION

Permit for $20,000 alterations to the street floor and basement of a building at 1002 Government Street which will house new offices of Pemberton, Holmes Ltd., was issued by the city building inspector's office yesterday.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"TO BE ON TENTERHOOKS"

This phrase, to which one of our readers refers as "another way of saying 'to be on pins and needles,'" used to be familiar also in the form "to be on the tenters."

"Tenter" is the name of a machine or frame used for stretching cloth, by means of hooks, so that it may dry evenly and keep its shape. Housewives today are familiar with a similar frame for drying curtains, which is called simply a curtain-stretcher.

The word "tenter" derives from the Old English tenture. From the Old French tenture, "a stretching," which is ultimately from the Latin tendere, "to stretch."

To return to the saying "to be on tenterhooks" as a way of expressing distress, a metaphorical being on the rack, or "taking a stretching," the stretching frame to which this refers gave rise also to other word formations. There was, for instance, "tenter ground," the place where tenters were erected; also the phrase "to be on the tenter;" and tenter-hooks, the sharp spikes or nails inserted around the frame for holding the cloth to be stretched, which became a metaphor for an instrument of torture.

There is a quotation from Bacon in which the reference is a literal one:

"Woollen cloth will tenter, linen scarcely."

However, the expression as metaphor is an old one, a notable use of it being in Samuel Butler's celebrated

His calmness, his obvious enjoyment of simply watching a fire burn, she loved. He had known that she would come down to this room and he was not pacing the floor or looking at his watch or telephoning her room. He had been certain, too. There were no doubts or fears for him. Norman had come to her this lovely room, a room I'll always remember and want to come back to . . .

Norman turned from the blazing logs, his eyes taking in all of her. He didn't say anything at once then said, "I've come for you—from Newton—and I almost got arrested until I told the cop why I was in such a hurry. A romantic cop. He let Ann come down then looking like a schoolgirl in a pink sweater and blue skirt but she came no closer than to the threshold of the lounge and there she stood quietly, not knowing whether to laugh or cry. They looked so absurd—Norman (she was certain it was he) unconscious of Carol's presence and Carol standing so still.

Turning away, Ann walked into the lobby and bought a newspaper, hoping that no one else would come down and stir the fire in the lounge. If someone did, she would hurry over and make conversation or pretend to turn her ankle or faint—or anything.

Carol asked, her voice soft and warm, "Were you waiting for me?" and she thought: Not in his office interrupting his work, not on his doorstep like a refugee but here in his smile was almost shy but happy, incredibly happy. There was ardor in it, too, and appreciation and humility; all the things he had felt and thought during the long drive in the rain were in his smile before he came to her and took her in his arms.

"I didn't think I'd ever hold you like this, darling, or say the thousand things I have to say only to you. You can't explain love but there are a lot of ways to say it . . . I had a swell speech worked out last nigh when I was driving but holding you close like this makes me forget it . . . Is there anyone else in the world this morning? I don't think so. Just us, darling, and somebody to make it legal. Oh, yes, and Edwina and Dick Fenton waiting in New York to watch us make it legal. They say they won't be cheated. They want to be there. But you haven't said a word. Hey, you're not going to jilt me again, are you?"

"Did I before? I apologized for falling in love with you that day. That seems such a long time ago, doesn't it? It doesn't belong to now, Norman. None of that belongs to now."

"Except us!" He was like a boy now, excited and delighted. He was the Norman of the picnic, the Norman who had bribed an orchestra leader to prolong the dance with her, the Norman who had called her Aphrodite. Tilting her chin with his hand, he said, "Edwina won't break in on this! You're so lovely . . . I'm wound up like an eight-day clock. I've talked aloud to myself all the way here. She won't have a white satin gown or whatever it is girls like to wear to be married in but she doesn't need it. She'll have orchids and a ticket to Hawaii . . . We're going to Hawaii on our honeymoon in case you didn't know . . ."

"And she'll have me, the lucky girl,' you said to yourself . . ."

He laughed. No! 'We'll have each other!' You're interrupting me . . . My business partners have been grand about it, though they did wag their heads sadly and asked, 'You getting married? That means we postpone our vacations! And we thought you went to Newton for your health!' "

"And father sent you here . . ."

"With his blessing—and your clothes. We all packed, Rosie, your father and I. Rosie cried, your father smiled a good deal and I made no sense at all. You'll find your clothes in a frightful state! But you can buy more on the way—in Chicago and Los Angeles and Honolulu. A national wardrobe . . ."

Suddenly he was serious. "Edwina told me about Alan. She told me everything. But I didn't know that your loyalty was no longer necessary until Alan stopped in New York. I didn't see him. He saw Dick before he went away. I don't know where he went. I didn't stop to ask. I made reservations on a ship going to Honolulu and I went to Newton—for you . . ."

"I was coming to you—today. I had a timetable. I knew we didn't have to wait any longer . . . A friend is here with me. Let's go tell Ann . . ."

But Ann had fainted and the guests coming down to breakfast and the guests who had finished breakfast and who ordinarily would have gone to the lounge for warmth and to read were grouped about her, fanning her, rubbing her wrists and looking quite perplexed. Someone said, "She seems to have a good pulse but she's certainly taking a long time to come out of it."

* * * * *

They were married that evening in the living room of Dick's apartment and there was nothing to indicate the haste with which the wedding had been arranged. The fragrance of many exquisite flowers mingled in the large attractive room where Carol, very fair and very lovely in a simple blue frock, stood with Norman before a clergyman.

Only Edwina and Dick were there and to Edwina it was a far more impressive occasion than the elaborate church weddings she had attended. Wearing a brown frock she had bought in Paris two years ago, she felt dwarfed not only by the bigness of Dick and Norman but also by the bigness of the occasion. Like Ann, she did not know whether she was going to laugh or cry . . . Her thoughts went beyond this rainy September night to the years ahead for Carol and Norman. And often her thoughts of them were halted by the familiarity of the words she was hearing and she remembered her clear, quick, eager responses to the same questions . . . Now she felt on the outside looking in, like a hungry child with her nose pressed against a candy store window.

On the outside looking in . . . But the ceremony was over and Carol's radiant face turned to her, Norman, smiling now and happy, and handsomer that ever, gave her a resounding kiss and shook Dick's hand vigorously and soon everybody was talking at once and toasts were drunk and Carol, wearing the silver fox jacket that Edwina had bought for her that day and charged to Norman, and Norman were running through the rain again to Dick's car with Edwina and Dick following . . .

They made their train with only a minute to spare and there was little time for good-byes . . .

"Wear a lei for me," Dick shouted through the window.

Edwina threw them a kiss and watched them, standing very close together and looking so "right" together, as the train slowly moved away, leaving only steel and dampness and silence . . .

Dick said soberly, "It makes you rather speechless, doesn't it, seeing something like that? It makes me sad—because you feel left out in the cold, I suppose. I don't wonder he went off the deep end over her. She's gorgeous. And that isn't the end of their love story. The next chapters will be better."

He stuffed his hands into the pockets of his topcoat and pulled his hat down over his eyes.

"You can see them living in some lovely country place with a couple of lovely children. And you can see a lot of sunshine and love and happiness and peace . . ."

"Edwina nodded. "Yes. And it all came true . . . Shall we go, Dick?"

Students From Seattle Heard In Discussion by Kiwanis Club

Matters pertaining to labor-management relationships were discussed yesterday by Miss Mary-Lynne Grossman and Joyce Taylor, members of the University of Washington Women's Public Discussion Group, before the Kiwanis Club at the Empress Hotel.

Miss Grossman felt industrial peace would ultimately come about through mutual understanding of each other's problems by labor and management. "Labor resents being merely a factor of production," she said.

She claimed labor was seeking an element of security, safe and pleasant working conditions, and "a place in competitive society."

Effects of the United States Taft-Hartley Act, governing labor, were outlined briefly by Miss Taylor, who advocated a profit-sharing scheme as a means of solving many industrial problems. The profit-sharing idea, she continued, was nothing new. It started many years ago in England, and was receiving considerable attention today in the United States.

Both young women were introduced to the club by E. S. Farr, and thanked by Clarence Johns.

Yesterday's program marked the fourth year members of the University of Washington Discussion Group have addressed the Kiwanis Club.

Excellent Response Reported By Stadium Fund Canvassers

Excellent response to Victoria High School's one-day Memorial Stadium Campaign to raise $20,000, was reported last night by L. J. Wallace, chairman of the School Memorial Committee.

Student canvassers—1,150 of them—combed Victoria yesterday in a swiftly paced campaign aimed at contacting every business and home in the city.

Predictions late yesterday evening were that only part of the sum needed had been donated.

Preliminary count of cash and cheques is expected to be completed by noon today, said Mr. Wallace.

"The students have worked very hard," he said, "and are still working." He expected the final tally to be complete by the end of the week.

No time limit has been set for the ending of the canvass, stated members of the school's committee. Any member of the public not contacted on Tuesday may send a donation into the Victoria High School at any time, they said.

Speaker Tells Of Growing Welfare Work

Growth of Victoria's highly specialized welfare services was sketched last night by J. O. Nicholls, special placement officer, National Employment Service, before members of Greater Victoria Community Workers' Club at the Y.M.C.A.

"From feudal days welfare services have grown by a process of evolution to their present highly integrated system employing university or college graduates," he declared.

Special placement work, on which Mr. Nicholls spoke, grew from the 1941 formation of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, he observed.

"It is designed to assist those handicapped due to physical, mental or moral reasons," he said.

He said no distinction was made as to religion, race or color.

Special interest of the National Employment Service is the over-age worker.

Mr. Nicholls said their numbers were out of proportion to the number of jobs available, adding that they were a good risk, experienced, and had proved their usefulness and reliability.

"We feel that more concentration along this line is needed to best serve the interests of the over-age-45 employee," he concluded.

Fare Revenue Hit by Drop In Use of Cash

Increased use of tickets and passes has lowered the average fare revenue on Victoria's transportation system, according to W. C. Mainwaring, vice-president in charge of the B.C. Electric's Island operations.

Statistics compiled by the company show that under the franchise instituted last December average fare revenue has increased only one-twentieth of a cent.

The company now receives 5.27 cents per fare on the basis of seven cents cash fare, four tickets for 25 cents and a one-dollar weekly pass.

Analysis of fare revenues for the first three months of this year shows a falling off in the number of cash fares paid on the system and a proportionate increase in use of tickets, in comparison with the months of July, August and September last year, Mr. Mainwaring concludes.

Under the new structure 18.53 per cent of total receipts was in cash. During the 1947 period 49.58 per cent was in cash.

An increase of 6.63 per cent in revenues from passes is shown.

During the 1947 period 4,584,547 passengers produced revenues of $239,227.86. This year number of passengers carried fell to 4,165,907 with revenue of $219,627.32.

"Extensive use of the weekly pass is diluting the average fare revenue anticipated from the new structure," observed Mr. Mainwaring.

City Land Sale Revenue Drops Far Below Same Period in '47

City land sale revenue and volume for the first four months of this year showed a sharp drop from the total for the same period last year.

Ald. D. D. McTavish, chairman of the city lands committee, announced yesterday that total land sales up to April 30 this year were $25,533 as against $137,959 for the corresponding period last year.

Total sales for April were $12,359, compared with $70,618 in 1947. Parcels of land sold in the first four months of 1948 totaled 118 as against 352 last year, with 27 parcels of land sold in April this year and 193 in 1947. The 193 last year, however, included 120 parcels disposed of in a housing agreement with Housing Enterprises.

Ald. McTavish said total cash receipts to April this year were $41,565, compared with $126,512. April receipts were $9,218 this year. Last year's were $33,807.

Regular Visitor To Victoria Dies

Horace W. Green, 85, founder and owner of many companies, and identified for more than 50 years with Long Beach, Calif., development, died at Long Beach last week.

Mr. Green, a native of London, England, went to Boston in 1882, and first came to Victoria in 1893. From Victoria he went to Alaska and northern British Columbia, where he built a cannery on the Skeena River.

Mr. and Mrs. Green had visited Victoria in the Autumn for many years, and had made reservations for this year.

Chamber of Commerce Staff Praised by Retiring President

Major H. C. Holmes, retiring president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, paid tribute at yesterday's annual meeting to members of the chamber's staff, with particular mention of George I. Warren, managing secretary.

Major Holmes praised others for their work in, and with, the organization, including R. W. Mayhew, M.P.; J. V. Johnson; the press; Archie Wills; Hon. W. T. Straith, Provincial Minister of Education, and heads of various city organizations.

Dealing with the proposed airpark at Gordon Head, he said the group of men "waging the struggle" for the project have earned the support of the Chamber of Commerce. "Quick transit to the neighboring cities lying within 50 to 80 air miles from us is essential to our proper progress."

F. Hilly and J. A. Greenidge were unanimously re-elected auditors for the forthcoming year, following presentation of a favorable financial report from George I. Warren.

Members adopted a report from G. H. Stevens, chairman of the by-laws committee, in which it was noted "with the exception of the president and the vice-president, directors who have served on the board of directors for two successive two-year terms shall retire from the board, and none of these shall be eligible for re-election to the board until one year has elapsed since the date of his retirement from the board." This marked the only significant change in the organization's constitution and by-laws.

During 1947, seven members of the chamber died. They were: W. O. Wallace, J. L. Ford, Capt. George McGregor, William Davis, Horace Hills, J. Henderson and L. Schmela.

The meeting concluded with a brief address by W. Young, chairman of the national affairs committee, who dealt with freedom of enterprise and Communism.

ALBERNI COMPLETES MODERN CITY HALL

Photograph shows new Alberni City Hall at Victoria Quay and Johnston Road, on banks of Somass River. Building will be ready for occupancy in near future. Large illuminated clock combines with modern exterior of structure to improve appearance of business district.

Port Alberni Aldermen Want Action on Houses

PORT ALBERNI, May 4.—Unless Boultbee, Sweet & Company takes measures of a definite nature by August 1 to construct additional houses in sufficient numbers on property obtained by agreement from Port Alberni, the City Council will take action to have other blocks of property in the same area converted back to the city. The city will consider the company to be in default of its agreement unless construction gets under way.

Action was taken by the council on a joint recommendation signed by Gordon M. Campbell, city solicitor, and Frank L. Kitto, city clerk. It was pointed out that only 24 houses had been constructed on 44 lots, and of the 24 houses constructed, only 17 were occupied.

The council also decided that the company should be advised that further hydrants were called for in the agreement, and insofar as the Boultbee, Sweet & Company proposal to build low-rental houses on other property in the area was concerned, the mayor and aldermen will require the company to complete the original project before starting another.

Campbell River To Aid Visitors

CAMPBELL RIVER, May 5.—It was announced by the village commissioners that arrangements would be made so that at least three restaurants in the village remain open on holidays. This is so that tourists, arriving in the district on a holiday, will have somewhere to eat. A schedule is being drawn up as to which restaurants will be open on different days, and it will be forwarded to the Campbell River and District Board of Trade.

Commissioner Oscar Thulin and Robert Robinson, village clerk, plan to visit Victoria this week on business pertaining to the proposed new water system for the village.

The suggestion of having an inter-community committee was endorsed, and Miss M. Noise Causes Wear And Tear

By Dr. J. B. WARREN

The wear and tear caused by noises, often repeated, not only interferes with one's composure and comfort, but interferes with one's ability to work. A noisy office can reduce working ability by 30 to 40 per cent. Noise registers in the brain even when we are asleep, and we awake less refreshed.

The benefit from sleep or rest is the complete relaxation which gives the whole body—nerves, heart, lungs, blood vessels, muscles—less work to do. When noise strikes the ear and then the brain, the brain sends word to all nerves and muscles to be on the alert, hence less rest is obtained.
